

RECOMMEND A RESOURCE BE ADDED TO PAVILION

Simulation Recommendation

Simulations present the user with a story-based mission where they must identify and/or apply skills by answering a series of questions. Upon completion they are given a score and recommended remediation. The user can choose from one to three paths to take, each having their own unique questions. This allows the user to repeat the simulation but experience a different scenario. For example, the mission could be centered around a crisis and each path represents one of the following:

- Roles (e.g., Mission Partner Support, PA Media Operations and Crisis Action Team Member)
- Events (e.g., a hurricane approaches, the hurricane hits, the hurricane passes)
- Products (e.g., interview, social media strategy, and communication plan)

Using the above example of the path options being different roles during a crisis, the user would choose one of the roles from the list and then answer three questions specific to that path (e.g., responsibilities during a crisis for a Crisis Action Team Member). Users will select an answer choice for each question and feedback will display depending on whether it is correct or incorrect.

During the simulation, users can access resources to reference as part of the questions to complete their mission. For example, fact sheets, maps, sample communication plans, press releases, photos, etc. These resources are optional. View an example simulation with three paths on PAVILION.

Fill out this form and email to pavilion@dinfos.edu. If you have any additional source materials (e.g., Word doc, jpg) that should be used or referenced, include them as an attachment to the email. Thank you for sharing your idea or resource!

To maintain the highest levels of integrity, resources are vetted and undergo an extensive review process. If approved, the information will be transformed and adapted to best suit the fleet and field. We will reach out to you with any questions.

Describe Your Recommendation

Provide a description of the simulation and how it would benefit DoD PA/VI:

Tell Us About the Source Material(s)

Do you have any supporting materials or images to provide along with your recommendation (e.g., photos, press release, lesson plans, training guides)?

If so, please list the link(s) below and/or provide the source(s) as an email attachment.

Who is the source or owner of the resources and/or information (e.g., you, your unit's PAO, DINFOS, George Mason University, Military Times, Hootsuite)?

If the materials are owned by a third party, do we have permission to use them?

Is this information cleared for public consumption?

Draft Your Simulation (Optional)

You will need to provide: a story-based mission with one to three paths, three questions for each path and two to five answer choices for each question, as well as resources to help answer the questions. If images are used for any questions: 1) Include them as an email attachment along with this form and 2) Identify the filename as part of the question's text so the correct file is referenced.

What title do you recommend?

What is the total number of paths?

Provide links to resources on PAVILION that would serve as recommended remediation:

Mission Story

The mission's story is broken up into two parts, an opening and an ending. Each part can be presented in a different format as an image with text or story panels. Story panels are a series of panels that are composed of text, images or both, similar to a comic strip.

What is the format of the story's opening?

Provide the story's opening of the mission and/or list the document and images to reference:

What is the format of the story's ending?

Provide the story's ending of the mission and/or list the document and images to reference:

Mission Objectives

Provide two to five learning objectives for the simulation:

Choose Your Path Question

Only provide if the simulation is not a single path.

Provide background information for the question and the actual question's text:

What is the format for the path choices?

Provide two to three path choices:
